

MODERN SOUTH ASIAN HISTORY BOOK LAUNCH

24 June 2022, 4 – 6 pm, Holbornsches Haus, Rote Straße 34, Göttingen

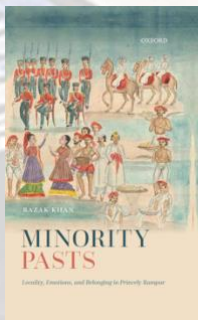

At Göttingen's Centre for Modern Indian Studies, the Modern South Asian History Research Group has reasons to celebrate. In 2022, four historical monographs resulting from work conducted in the research group appeared with leading international publishers. At this book launch, these monographs will be introduced by four scholars who have collaborated or were associated with the History Research Group since its inception in 2009. The authors, too, will be present and have agreed to respond. For further information: IndianHistory.CeMIS@sowi.uni-goettingen.de

Rukmini Barua (Max Planck Institute of Human Development, Berlin):

In the Shadow of the Mill. Transformation of Workers' Neighbourhoods in Ahmedabad, 1920s to 2000s (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press).

Introduction: Jana Tschurennev (CeMIS Göttingen)

Razak Khan (CeMIS Göttingen):

Minority Pasts: Locality, Emotions and Belonging in Rampur (New Delhi: Oxford University Press).

Introduction: Nitin Sinha (Leibniz Zentrum Moderner Orient, Berlin)

Anna Sailer (CeMIS Göttingen):

Workplace Relations in Colonial Bengal. The Jute Industry and Indian Labour 1870s-1930s (London: Bloomsbury).

Introduction: Ritajyoti Bandhyopadhyay (Indian Institute of Science Education and Research, Mohali)

Sebastian Schwecke (Max Weber Forum für Südasiestudien Delhi):

Debt, Trust, and Reputation. Extra-legal Finance in Modern India (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press).

Introduction: Aditya Sarkar (University of Warwick)